Sewing thread for leather
More than 100 years of experience run like a thread through our history.

What never changes is excellence.

More than 100 years of experience and continued business growth, drawing on new high-tech production processes, have positioned Julius Koch with our high-quality threads as a leading global partner in the leather industry.

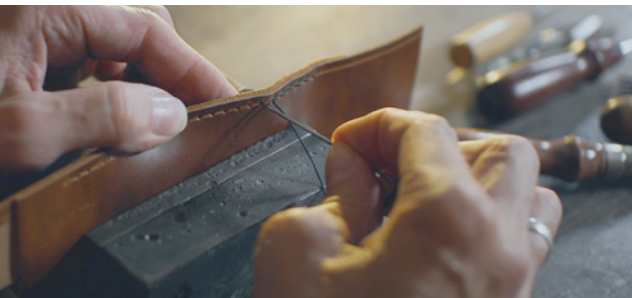

Our sewing articles - known as Ritza - have been a guarantee of quality for more than a century. Our mission is always the same: We want to provide service, advice and high-quality products. From now on under the category name Julius Koch Sewing Connections.

For our ambitious customers in the leather industry nothing changes. We concentrate on developing quality thread and working jointly with the finest manufacturers of shoes, bags and saddlery in an effort to continually improve our products. For our joint business.

A wide range of colours. An extensive range of threads. Let's start your business.

It is a matter of our hearts to care for two main things: Highest quality of our products and complete satisfaction of our customers.

.....WE KEEP IT TOGETHER.....

Our laboratory is for your labour.

Over the years we have developed and produced quality sewing thread for customers all over the world. A result of extensive experience is a range of well-documented and tested selections of threads available in a wide range of texture and colours.

Through continuous quality control we have achieved threads which are homogenous both in structure and colour. Some threads are more suitable for hand-sewn items and others perfect for machine-sewn articles.

Threads that keep your work together.

The perfect texture of our threads guarantees an excellent performance, high resistance and an outstanding aesthetic result.

From our extensive range of braided threads, the majority is made from hard-wearing polyester, which makes them resist dust and keep the original colour.

Ritza 25 waxed – Colours that fit your product.

Our threads have been developed for high quality leather manufacturers.

Our dye experts work with specialists in order to use the most environmentally friendly dye materials.

In addition to our standard colours displayed on the right side, we also offer tailor-made solutions.
